Zeitreise – 50 Jahre türkische Gastarbeiter in Deutschland

Sevim Can Eyüboğlu und Hüseyin Aydın kommen Ende der 1960er Jahre nach Deutschland, beide arbeiten bei Ford in Köln. Sie schließen Freundschaft. Der eine kehrt Anfang der 80er zurück in die Türkei, der andere bleibt, gründet eine Familie und macht Karriere. Über 40 Jahre nachdem Sevim Can Eyüboğlu Deutschland zum ersten Mal betreten hat, begibt er sich noch einmal auf die gleiche Reise wie damals – von Istanbul mit dem Zug nach Deutschland – um seinen alten Freund zu treffen. Zwei Schicksale werden sichtbar – exemplarisch für türkische Gastarbeiter in Deutschland.

Back in Time – 50 Years of Turkish Guest Workers in Germany

Sevim Can Eyüboğlu and Hüseyin Aydın came to Germany in the late 1960s. Both worked for the Ford Motor Company in Cologne, where they formed a friendship. One returned to Turkey in the early 1980s, the other stayed on, started a family and made a career for himself. Now, 40 years after Sevim Can Eyüboğlu first set foot in Germany, he retraces the journey he made back then on a train from Istanbul to Germany to see his old friend again. Two very different lives stand side by side – two fates shared by many Turkish guest workers in Germany.

Turkey, a Pensioners' Paradise – Winters under Palm Trees
- Holidaymaker Jürgen Hartwig is up early. The battle for the best sun-loungers gets the pensioner out of bed at the crack of dawn. The 71-year-old and his wife Christel are among a steadily growing array of retirees who regularly flee their home country during the cold season. Around 50,000 German pensioners now spend their winters in the warm south. Such long holidays are particularly inexpensive in Turkey. Often a moderately-priced hotel with full board isn't much more expensive than just buying food in Germany.

Rentnerparadies Türkei – Überwintern unter Palmen

Schon früh ist Urlauber Jürgen Hartwig auf den Beinen. Der Kampf um die besten Sonnenliegen treibt den Rentner morgens aus den Federn. Der 71-Jährige gehört mit seiner Frau Christel zur ständig größer werdenden Gruppe von Senioren, die regelmäßig der kalten Jahreszeit in ihrer Heimat entflieht. Etwa deutsche 50.000 Rentner verbringen inzwischen den Winter im warmen Süden. Besonders günstig sind solche Langzeitferien in der Türkei. Oft ist ein Mittelklassehotel mit Vollpension nicht viel teurer als die Selbstversorgung zu Hause.

Victims of Disaster – When Everything Changes
- On 28 August 1988, Italian jets collided during the Ramstein air show in Germany. 70 people were killed. Horst Nietsch and his wife survived badly injured. The Ramstein disaster was the reason why Hartmut Jatzko, a trauma expert, and his wife Sybille, a trained therapist, founded a special center to care for traumatised disaster victims. They include people caught in other life-changing events such as the horrific 2004 Asian tsunami, the 9/11 terrorist attacks in New York and the 1996 Birgenair crash in the Dominican Republic.

Am 28. August 1988 stießen bei einer Flugschau in Ramstein italienische Flugzeuge zusammen. 70 Menschen starben. Horst Nietsch und seine Frau überlebten schwer verletzt. Die Katastrophe von Ramstein war für den Trauma-Spezialisten Hartmut Jatzko und seine Frau Sybille, Gesprächstherapeutin, Anlass, eine Katastrophennachsorge zu gründen. Mittlerweile ist das Zentrum Anlaufstelle für Menschen geworden, deren Leben sich durch eine Katastrophe dramatisch verändert hat. Hierher kommen auch die Betroffenen des Tsunami, des 11. September 2001, des Birgenair-Absturzes und viele andere.

Facing Down Prejudice
- The teacher Lena Orhan of Berlin is often taken for a cleaning lady; the pediatrician Adnan Akbaba of Hamburg is confused with a caretaker; the police officer Irfan Pehlivanoglu is suspected of being a criminal in disguise. They all come from immigrant families; they grew up in Germany, and they've made the grade, fighting prejudices all the way. They set important examples and mediate between cultures. A camera team followed these trailblazers in school, at home and on patrol.

Construction Site in the Sea – A Giant North Sea Wind Farm
- The foundation of an offshore wind turbine reaches 40 meters down into the seabed, and its rotors are mounted at a height of 80 meters. Gargantuan state-of-the-art wind-powered electrical generators are to be installed north of the island of Borkum in the North Sea to form one of the latest generation of wind farms. Many hopes are riding on wind farms like these to help ease the difficult transition to renewable energy sources. But the road from nuclear power to green energy is a long and rocky one. The technicians and engineers keep having to stop work to wait out choppy seas and gale-force winds.

Großbaustelle im Meer – Der Riesen-Windpark vor Borkum
- Ihre Fundamente werden in 40 Metern Tiefe in den Meeresboden gerammt, ihre Rotoren in 80 Metern Höhe montiert: Offshore-Windräder. Nördlich von Borkum, mitten in der Nordsee, werden 80 dieser gigantischen Windkraftanlagen der jüngsten Generation errichtet. Windparks wie diese sollen die dringend gewünschte Energiewende ermöglichen. Doch der Weg von der Atomkraft hin zur alternativen Energieversorgung ist ein steiniger. Immer wieder müssen die Techniker und Ingenieure ihre Arbeiten einstellen, zu hoch sind die Wellen, zu heftig wird der Wind.

The Fall of the Berlin Wall – From Divided Germany to Reunification

It was one of the most significant single events of the previous century and a red-letter date for Germany. On the evening 9 November 1989, the Berlin Wall fell, brought down by persistent, courageous and peaceful pressure from the East German people. No one had expected it would come so fast. Thousands of people came flooding through the checkpoints, wild with joy. For over 28 years, one of the world's most notorious barriers had separated families, friends and loved ones in two parts of the same city. This is the gripping story of Germany's division and how it was overcome.

- Klaus N. has more than 1000 animals on his 60 hectares. He wants to create a paradise for his animals but now he is out of his depth. The huge outdoor enclosure is home to sheep, goats, dogs, pigs, one horse and all kinds of feathered creatures. In the midst of it all are the decaying remains of an old farmhouse. The ruins are now inhabited by pigeons, while the owner lives in a rundown trailer. The "King of the Beasts", their saviour, is a man with a sense of humour and not a little cunning.

Evidence Speaks for Itself – Accident Investigators on the Job
- Andre Schlesselmann and Kai-Oliver Apel are accident investigators. They're called in whenever someone has been hurt in a motor crash. The question is always the same: whose fault was it? They interview witnesses and gather evidence. Even the smallest marks on the asphalt might help them reconstruct the course of the accident. Every dent and scrape on the vehicles involved tell the investigators what happened and how. Quite often, the statements of the drivers and passengers can be contradictory, especially if they still feel shaken by their brush with fate.

Andre Schlesselmann und Kai-Oliver Apel sind Unfall-Detektive. Sie rücken immer dann aus, wenn es auf den Straßen gekracht hat und Menschen verletzt wurden. Für die Ermittler geht es immer um die gleiche Frage: Wer hat Schuld? Sie vernehmen Zeugen, suchen nach Spuren. Aufgrund kleinster Kratzer auf dem Asphalt können sie den Hergang des Unfalls rekonstruieren. Jede noch so kleine Beule am Fahrzeug sagt den Polizisten, wie der Unfall wirklich passiert ist. Denn oft genug sind die Aussagen der Unfallbeteiligten völlig widersprüchlich. Und deren Nerven liegen blank...

And today, he's the proud owner of a chain of restaurants in Berlin. But he's never lost contact with his relatives or religious roots. This feature report follows Bunty through a land of contrasts, from the city of his birth, Bombay, now Mumbai, to Amritsar, home of the Golden Temple, the most sacred shrine of the Sikhs. From Punjab we continue to Goa, and everywhere Bunty goes, he meets friends and relatives.

Organspende – Wettlauf um ein zweites Leben

Benedikt wird in wenigen Tagen Vater. Doch damit sein Familienglück von Dauer ist, braucht er noch etwas: ein neues Herz. Sein eigenes wird vielleicht nur noch ein paar Monate schlagen. Benedikt ist einer von rund 12.000 Menschen in Deutschland, die auf eine Organspende hoffen. Eine verstörende Hoffnung: Es muss jemand sterben, damit er selber leben kann. Der Film begleitet ihn und andere Patienten, die im Transplantationszentrum München-Großhadern auf ein Spenderorgan warten.

Consumer Society? No Thanks!

Jochen and Simone's fridge is empty. Time to get more food. These two always do that after the shops close. When it's dark they go to the rubbish bins behind the supermarkets. These contain vast quantities of food that have passed their sell-by date – but that doesn't bother these two. There are more and more people who are saying no to consumerism, out of conviction. They are protesting against a throw-away society that produces too much at too high a cost, only to discard it.

Konsum – nein danke!
- Bei Jochen und Simone ist der Kühlschrank leer – Zeit, für Nachschub zu sorgen. Das tun die beiden grundsätzlich nach Ladenschluss. Wenn es dunkel geworden ist, gehen sie zu den Abfallcontainern hinter Supermärkten. Dort gibt es Lebensmittel in Hülle und Fülle, deren Verfallsdatum überschritten ist – aber das stört die beiden nicht. Immer mehr Konsumverweigerer gibt es, die aus Überzeugung so leben: Sie protestieren gegen eine Wegwerfgesellschaft, in der es normal geworden ist, viel zu viel zu produzieren und dann wieder zu vernichten.

It's not always easy when almost all of the 62 rooms are seeing departures and new arrivals on the same day. But everything has to run smoothly: the peak season is the most lucrative time of year. Ermittler Jürgen Albers von der Bundesstelle für Seeunfalluntersuchung (BSU) steht an der Schleuse und grübelt. Weshalb riss die Leine? Es werden noch Monate vergehen, bis das Rätsel gelöst ist. Jeder verunglückte Seemann, jede deutsche Schiffskatastrophe ist ein Fall für die Hamburger Behörde. Manche von Albers' Fällen offenbaren haarsträubende Missstände in der Seefahrt – wie etwa bei der Havarie eines deutschen Frachters, der vor den Azoren mit Vollgas auf die Felsen fuhr. Eine Reportage über die Suche nach Wahrheit in der harten Welt der Seefahrt.

Botox – A Poison Conquers the Cosmetics World, Part 1
- It's one of the most deadly toxins in the world and a million times more powerful than arsenic: botulinum toxin, better known as botox. In recent years it's conquered the cosmetics industry as an anti-wrinkle treatment. Billions of dollars are made around the world every year with this neuro-toxin. What's less well known is that botulinum toxin is also a medication. Botox doesn't just act where it's injected, it even spreads into the brainstem. Botox, a miracle drug that cures us and makes us younger? No matter what the dose, it is and remains a highly potent toxin.

Botox – Ein Gift macht Karriere, Teil 1

Es ist das tödlichste Gift der Welt, eine Million Mal stärker als Arsen: Botulinumtoxin – besser bekannt unter dem Namen Botox. Als Faltenkiller hat es in den letzten Jahren die Schönheitspraxen erobert. Mit dem Nervengift werden weltweit Milliarden umgesetzt. Weniger bekannt ist, dass Botulinumtoxin auch als Medikament eingesetzt wird. Botox wirkt nicht nur dort, wo es injiziert wird, sondern breitet sich sogar im Stammhirn aus. Botox, ein Wundermittel, das heilt und jünger macht? Egal in welcher Dosis – es ist und bleibt ein hochwirksames Gift.

A Tale of Two Cities – Tel Aviv and Berlin
- When German and Israeli comic-strip artists make a travel guide about Tel Aviv and Berlin they are entering a minefield, even though young Israelis now consider Berlin Europe's hippest city. The artists talk about the present, and yet the past still plays a role for almost all of them. This report accompanies people from Berlin and Tel Aviv and portrays how they experience the two cities. The Israeli Rutu Modan discovered the heroine of her youth, Rosa Luxemburg, in Berlin. Jan Feindt is from Berlin. His love story started on the beach of Tel Aviv.

"Man guckt nach hinten und man guckt nach vorn"

Wenn deutsche und israelische Comiczeichner ein Reisebuch über Tel Aviv und Berlin machen, begeben sie sich auf vermintes Gelände. Auch wenn Berlin unter jungen Israelis heute als hipste Stadt Europas gilt. Die Zeichner erzählen vom Heute und doch spielt bei fast jedem das Gestern eine Rolle. Die Reportage begleitet Berliner und Tel Aviver hautnah, wie sie die beiden Städte erleben: So findet die Israelin Rutu Modan in Berlin ihre Jugendheldin Rosa Luxemburg. Der Berliner Jan Feindt beginnt seine Lovestory am Strand von Tel Aviv.

Organic Food for the Masses?
- Organically grown food is conquering our shops. Once considered to be the musty attribute of idealists, it is now the mark of a modern society's attitude to life. The turnover from organic food in Germany has grown to a record of nearly six billion euros. Conventional mass production of food is pushing the world to its ecological limits. Organic, sustainable agriculture could counteract this. But can we actually produce food sustainably in such quantities at all?

Bio für die Massen?

Lebensmittel aus biologischem Anbau erobern die Ladentheken. Was einst als muffiges Attribut von Idealisten galt, steht jetzt für das Lebensgefühl einer modernen Gesellschaft. Der Umsatz von Bio-Lebensmitteln steigt auf ein Rekordvolumen von fast sechs Milliarden Euro in Deutschland. Die konventionelle Massenproduktion von Lebensmittel treibt die Welt an ihre ökologischen Grenzen. Biologisch nachhaltige Landwirtschaft könnte dem entgegenwirken. Doch können wir in der Masse Lebensmittel überhaupt nachhaltig produzieren?

When is lying pathological and why are their victims so gullible? This series of films explores some of the strangest cases of fraud.

Christoph Sauer verheiratet Brautpaare, die kirchlich nicht heiraten können oder wollen und erfüllt als freier Hochzeitsredner die Sehnsucht nach der romantischen Zeremonie und nach einem festlichen Rahmen. Die Idee, als "Marry Man" sein Geld zu verdienen, kam ihm in den USA, als er zum ersten Mal in seinem Leben einen freien Redner bei einer Hochzeit sah. Seitdem gestaltet Sauer konfessionell ungebundene Trauungsfeiern. Und das ist ein höchst sensibler Job, schließlich haben seine Kunden hohe Erwartungen an den "schönsten Tag im Leben".

Close up: The Great Meltdown
- Temperatures are rising and sea levels along with them, changing both the climate and the face of the Earth. Year for year, Greenland loses a volume of ice roughly the size of the Alps, while in Bangladesh the intervals between major floods grow shorter and shorter. The floods bring saltwater inland, spoiling once fertile cropland. For some 30 years now, Paleoclimatologist Lonnie Thompson has been analyzing ice cores taken from Peru's Quelccaya Ice Cap to get a picture of climate data from past millennia. His conclusions are shocking.

Die Temperaturen steigen, der Meeresspiegel ebenfalls: Durch den Klimawandel ändert die Erde ihr Gesicht. Pro Jahr verliert Grönland das Eisvolumen der gesamten Alpen. Und in Bangladesch werden die Zeitabstände zwischen den großen Fluten immer kürzer. Salzwasser dringt ins Landesinnere vor und macht das Ackerland unfruchtbar. In den peruanischen Anden untersucht der Paläoklimatologe Lonnie Thompson seit 30 Jahren anhand von Eisbohrkernen aus dem Quelccaya-Gletscher die Klimadaten vergangener Jahrtausende. Seine Bilanz ist schockierend.

Botox – A Poison Conquers the Cosmetics World, Part 2
- It's one of the most deadly toxins in the world and a million times more powerful than arsenic: botulinum toxin, better known as botox. In recent years it's conquered the cosmetics industry as an anti-wrinkle treatment. Billions of dollars are made around the world every year with this neuro-toxin. What's less well known is that botulinum toxin is also a medication. Botox doesn't just act where it's injected, it even spreads into the brainstem. Botox, a miracle drug that cures us and makes us younger? No matter what the dose, it is and remains a highly potent toxin.
