Travelling the Globe

In this series we travel to some of the most beautiful, remote and fascinating parts of the world. Each film focuses on a particular region, looking at its landscapes, its history, its cultural profile and the daily life and social circumstances of the people who live there. Getting around by car, train, ship and on foot, our intrepid reporters engage in a relentless search for "human stories". The series puts people and places first and presents a colourful tapestry of human life and cultural highlights from around the globe.

01 The Rhine River – Shaper of Life and Landscape

On its journey through the West of Germany, the Rhine River has shaped life and landscape since time immemorial.

02 In the Realm of the Senses – A Journey Through India

The tour starts in the capital Delhi, where we take the Maharaja Train south through the poor desert state of Rajasthan to India's best-known landmark, the Taj Mahal. From there, we head for the coast and the business, cultural and Bollywood capital of Mumbai (formerly Bombay).

03 On the Road in Southern Africa

Our travels in Southern Africa take us from Mozambique's Pacific beaches to the Atlantic, from the Cape of Good Hope to the diamond shores of Namibia and on the Transkalahari Highway south to Johannesburg.

04 Russia by River – From Saint Petersburg to Moscow

The cruise starts and ends in vibrant cities with golden palaces. In between: forgotten villages, rural backwaters where people lead a very modest existence.

06 In the Realm of the Condor – From Machu Picchu to Lake Titicaca

From Machu Picchu, the lost city of the Incas, we take a train to Cuzco. Then we set off on a thrilling trek through the Andes to Puno to take a ship across the second-biggest lake in Latin America, Lake Titicaca.

07 A Visit to the Fairy-Tale King

Tourists from all over the world go into raptures at the sight of Neuschwanstein Castle in Upper Bavaria. It was commissioned by King Ludwig II of Bavaria, a 19th century eccentric whose castles are full of mechanical gadgetry.

08 Syria – Ancient Land of Culture in the Middle East

On our journey we meet Bedouins, visit the cultural sites in Palmyra, stop at the 5,000 year old ruins of Mari, tour the vast covered market in Aleppo, and the highlight of the tour, Damascus, one of the oldest continuously inhabited cities in the world.

09 Mongolian Adventure

A journey from the Gobi Desert to the Suvraga Mountains close to the Siberian border. Hunting with eagles, preparing for the bitterly cold winter, travelling through the desert on a camel are just some of the features of this Mongolian adventure.

10 Of Deserts, Wadis, and Wondrous Mysteries

"See Petra and die": ever since it was discovered in 1812, the rock city of Petra has fascinated generations of visitors. Travelling along the five thousand year old King's Road, the most beautiful route through Jordan, this film presents what Lawrence of Arabia once called "the most magnificent place in the world".

11 The Calm of Dawn – A Korean Journey

Seoul, the six hundred year old capital with its fifteen million inhabitants, is the starting point of a journey that takes the viewer to the mountains in the north-east, through the central region, and on to the islands off the south coast.

13 The Great Passion – Brazil

Brazil: a country the size of an entire continent, with a capital that claims to be the most beautiful in the world, with mysterious rain forests, and with more than eight thousand kilometres of seemingly endless beaches.

14 Egypt – The Wonders of the Nile

The Nile turns barren desert into farm land and most of the population of Egypt lives in cities along its valley and delta. At 6,671 kilometers the Nile is the world's longest river. Nearly all cultural and historical sites of Ancient Egypt are found along its banks. We take you on a Nile cruise through the empires of pharaohs, visit their temples and show you ancient murals and other fantastic treasures.

15 Sweden – A Winter Wonderland

We went on an adventure trip through Sweden's winter landscape, a country of endless forests, rivers and lakes, elks and reindeer. We start our journey in Stockholm, cross the country and end in Are, a high class ski resort in western Sweden. In addition to the spectacular Scandinavian scenery we meet open minded and warm hearted people, improve our skiing skills, and join in on unusual winter activities such as dog sled racing, snow-shoe hiking and ice fishing.

16 The Seychelles – Paradise Islands in the Indian Ocean

They are a holiday maker's dream destination, the Seychelles. White beaches, turquoise water, unspoiled rain forests and friendly people. But there is more to the Seychelles than meets the eye. The islands exhibit the world's largest nature reserves – compared to their actual size.

17 Lisbon – A Dream City on the Atlantic Coast

Only few cities in the world have been so strongly influenced by the oceans as Lisbon. Famous Portuguese discoverer Vasco da Gamas' descendants can't imagine a life without salt water. Fishing and trading dominate much of Lisbon's local economy. For visitors one offshore adventure is shark feeding and on land they'll be impressed by a visit to one of Europe's largest Oceanariums.

18 Costa Rica – Central America's Garden of Eden

Costa Rica is among the most scenic countries of Central America. A quarter of the country is covered by national parks, which offer everything from tropical rain forests and endless beaches to many rare species of flora and fauna. You can either go hiking in the Corcovado National Park, seek adventure on a Pacuare River white water rafting tour, join a Fiesta, watch bull fights or witness the worshipping of saints in Santa Cruz.

19 Pedals and Pagodas – Touring Laos on a Bicycle

Be it at sea or on land, nobody expects tourists to be travelling around northern Laos. Five million people live in a country the size of Germany. A visit to this sparsely populated country is a very different experience compared to staying in the overpopulated major cities of Asia. More than 30 pagodas can be found in Luang Prabang, where the locals say "Buddha is benign" and "Laotians are unhurried".
