Supporting independent media for constructive dialogue

DW Akademie is Deutsche Welle's center for international media development, journalism training and knowledge transfer.

With projects in more than 60 countries worldwide, our work strengthens the human right to freedom of expression and unhindered access to information. DW Akademie empowers people to make independent decisions based on reliable facts and constructive dialogue.

#MEDIADDEV: FREE EXPRESSION, GLOBAL PERSPECTIVES

Insights, analysis and a global exchange of ideas on freedom of expression, digital technology and the media. #mediadev is our portal for interactive media literacy content.

Promoting independent media for critical reporting

“ The biggest challenge is that people can be easily misled or manipulated if they do not have media literacy skills.

Annelien van Wyk, trainer, media and information literacy

We are journalists, consultants and experts in media and education. Together with our partners, we work to promote freedom of expression, human rights and the development of functioning media systems worldwide. We believe that journalism, education and culture improve people's lives.

Powerful stories support positive social dialogue. People need reliable facts, independent analysis, unbiased presentation and universal access to knowledge.

Strengthening independent media for a strong civil society

Our work centers on Article 19 of the UN International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, which proclaims freedom of expression and access to information as a basic human right. DW Akademie is working with partners to enable an exchange of ideas based on reliable information.

Media outlets play an important role in this as they sort the facts, offer a platform for diverse opinions and moderate the discussion.

“ We focus on people, organizations and communities who want a constructive dialogue and who want to contribute to an active and well-informed civil society.

Carsten von Nahmen, Managing Director, DW Akademie
